Covered by Insurance (copay and/or deductible may apply)

The Affordable Care Act (ACA), was signed into law in 2010. While the ACA relates to all parts of healthcare, one of the most valuable policies is that health insurance plans are required to cover breastfeeding support and supplies. Depending on health insurance type, plan and network, policies for reimbursement differ. Commercial insurance could cover costs up to 100% depending on policy type and benefits. Currently, the ACA has different regulations for Medicaid or WIC.
